PROFILE

Full Stack Developer with 3+ years of experience in .NET and Angular, specialised in microservices architectures, Clean Architecture and SOLID principles. Currently researching and building GenAI tooling: agent orchestration, LLM evaluation, RAG pipelines and workflow automation in Python. Deeply interested in the intersection of solid software engineering and practical AI — including Spec-Driven Development as a method to integrate agents into real development workflows. Always learning: Go, cloud infrastructure and multiple architectures.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Software Engineer - AI

hiberus
TECNOLOGÍA

Hiberus (Zaragoza, Spain)

April 2026 - Present

Development of applications in Java (Spring Boot) and Angular, participating in defining the system architecture from its initial phase. I bring prior experience in .NET and Angular, allowing me to quickly adapt to new stacks within a full-stack approach. I also integrate AI-assisted development into the workflow, orchestrating AI agents for analysis, code generation, and technical documentation tasks.
